

Comissioners.

Please do not allow excessive power limits on the new proposed 60 Meter band. 200 watts is adequate for communications and should be easily adhered to by all users should the band be allocated.

I also believe it would be proper and easily adhered to by dividing the band into segments such as CW/Digital etc. That would best suit all levels of licensing in the amateur service.

Thank you for your kind attention to this matter.

George W. Lee, KR5C
ARRL Life Member